

Invitation to the 9th HHT Scientific Conference

I would like formally invite you to attend the 9th Hereditary Hemorrhagic Telangiectasia (HHT) Scientific Conference to be held May 20th-24th, 2011 on the beautiful Mediterranean Coast of Turkey. Detailed information about the location, registration and accommodation, the preliminary program and abstract submission is now available at <http://www.hht2011.org/>.

The 9th HHT Scientific Conference will be held in Kemer, Turkey – in a region of southern Turkey called Antalya. The main city of this region also goes by the name of Antalya. The area has become a primary vacation destination for those seeking sun, the seaside, gorgeous natural beauty in an area with ancient history. Antalya is a prosperous, modern city with an international airport, as well as a charming, atmospheric old city center along the waterfront. Kemer is small seaside, resort community 44 km along the coast from Antalya. The conference is being held at an all-inclusive seaside resort hotel called Mirada del Mar which will provide accommodation, meals, and state of the art conference facilities.

Dr. Pinar Bayrak-Toydemir, Dr. Kevin Whitehead, and Jamie McDonald, MS, CGC, of the University of Utah HHT Center of Excellence, are excited to host the 2011 conference at this beautiful location. They are part of an international group of HHT clinicians and scientists working hard to plan a stimulating scientific program. We are very grateful for the sponsorship of the HHT Foundation International which makes this meeting possible.

We are looking forward to meeting you in Antalya!

Sincerely,

Carmelo Bernabeu
Chair, GRMAB
Centro de Investigaciones Biologicas, CSIC and
Centro de Investigacion Biomedica en Red de Enfermedades Raras (CIBERER)
Ramiro de Maeztu, 9
28040 Madrid, SPAIN